Our Focus

Our primary focus is to develop the sensitive, compassionate partnering of horse and rider. The harmonious communication can be seen in those who have elevated horsemanship to "living art," to quote Charles de Kunffy. Our desire is to kindle a passion for the art of traditional horsemanship -- to ride from a place of integrity, heart, soul, and center. We are committed to the pursuit of excellence and the evolution of horse and rider.

"The ancient Greeks believed the body, mind, and soul to be the three components of a person. These three facets of a rider must always be in perfect balance. The cultivation of one at the expense of the other two components will result in disharmony and discord. However, when equally *cultivated and attended to, they will produce a

harmonious partnership, which expresses itself in beauty."*

- Charles de Kunffy

TLC

We are very particular about the care of our horses and will treat yours as if they are our own.

- Stalls are large and very well bedded....all have rubber mats over a concrete base and fans.

- We do not use automatic waterers as we want to ensure that each bucket is cleaned daily and, more importantly, that horses are drinking an adequate amount of water.

three

- Horses are fed ~~four~~ times daily with quality hay and feed of your choice.

- There is a fly system in the barn and to further deter the fly population, manure is removed from the stalls ~~four~~ times daily and ~~three~~ hauled off our premises.

three

- The aisle is wide and uncluttered with three sets of break away cross ties...each is equipped with rubber mats.

- The wash area is also matted and provides hot and cold water.

- All boarders are welcome to use the veterinarian and farrier of their choice.

- Horses may be turned out in individual grass paddocks or in a group environment at your discretion.

- The entire perimeter is fenced with "no climb" fencing and single board construction as are the paddocks.... an electronic gate provides added security against the possibility of a gate being left open.

Since this is our home, we are constantly vigilant as it pertains to the safety and well being of all the horses.

We invite you to join us.

History

Horses have been a part of our lives from the very beginning. We have had the great opportunity and privilege to travel extensively and to learn from such great horsemen as:

~~Carl
Meyer~~

These accomplished riders have inspired us to continue our pursuit of equine excellence. They continually remind us that horsemanship is not merely an athletic endeavor, but also a living, breathing art form.

Horses and humans are multi-faceted and develop as they are able with the guidance of traditional techniques. We recognize that this process cannot be rushed and that optimal development occurs when lessons are presented with compassion, loving patience and consistency.

This is our commitment.

Amenities include:

- Large, well ventilated stalls
- Central fly system
- Hot water wash area in barn
- Individual ~~grass~~ paddocks
- ~~Fenced jump field with PVC jumps~~
- ~~Three acre "galloping" field~~

Two - Mirrored, full size, dressage arenas - One with full length mirrors.

- Round pen
- Access to miles of trails.

What we Offer

- Instruction
- Training & Board
- Kid's Program (Ages 8-~~15~~)
- Trailering to Goal Related Functions
- Customized Individual Support
- Summer Camp

It is our experience that most "problem horses" are created by ignorance, dispassion and a lack of sensitivity. Restarting them with traditional methods, tempered with compassion, patience and kindness can produce miraculous results.

Our Invitation

We welcome all horse and rider combinations regardless of current proficiency level, discipline or difficulty.

We are available to those who are passionate about generating a deeper connection with themselves and their horse and a more refined level of communication.
